East-West Debate
In U.N. Assured

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agreement by President Eisenhower to a proposal from Soviet Premier Khrushchev today assured a prompt showdown debate in the U.N. General Assembly over the Middle East crisis.

Officials were privately pleased that the fight between the Soviet Union and the Western powers will come in the Assembly rather than at a summit conference. Secretary of State Dulles among others was known to fear that a Mideast summit meeting would very likely do more harm than good.

Khrushchev himself could head the Soviet delegation to the emergency Assembly session if he chose. Some officials speculated that he might do so, but most thought he would not. They interpreted a letter he sent Eisenhower Tuesday as backing completely away from the whole summit conference idea at this time.

His bewildering switch in policy, the latest in a series of twists and turns over the past three weeks, had officials guessing. Most said that he probably had finally rejected Western proposals for a summit meeting in the 11-nation U.N. Security Council on China. He conferred in Peking late last week with Mao Tse-tung and the insistence of Communist and other Red Chinese leaders.

In a 10-page letter to Eisenhower, Khrushchev denounced the Security Council as an instrument of the United States, asserted that Red China should be brought into the U.N. and told Eisenhower that Khrushchev was instructing his ambassador in New York to ask at once for an extraordinary meeting of the General Assembly.

The President gave his reply in a statement Tuesday night, saying that "the General Assembly is completely acceptable" to him. Eisenhower added that he was instructing Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge to seek Security Council action at once on a United States resolution to put the immediate Middle East problems before the General Assembly.

In New York, the Council was called to meet Thursday afternoon. U.N. sources expressed confidence the Council would act during the day, which under U. N. rules would clear the way for an Assembly meeting starting Friday.

While Eisenhower and Khrushchev agreed on the forum, they disagreed completely on precisely what it should take up. The President wants the Security Council to adopt a previously introduced U.S. resolution which would call on the Assembly to take measures to protect Lebanon against outside pressures and thereby permit the withdrawal of United States troops.

Khrushchev in his letter said he wants the General Assembly to "discuss the question of withdrawing U.S. troops from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan." He wants it discussed, moreover, on the Soviet charge that the United States and Britain committed aggression by sending their troops into those countries.

Thus the lines are drawn for exactly the same violent arguments which would have been made in the proposed summit meeting of the Security Council. The difference is that the brunt of the words battle will be borne by Assembly delegates, not by the heads of government themselves.

This will avoid the involvement of their personalities and prestige under circumstances which, Dulles feared, could create much greater bitterness and more severe tensions between the Western powers and the Soviet Union than already exists.

Compromise
Farm Bill
Being Pushed

House Leaders Seek OK of Measure To Cut Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Disorganized House farm forces rallied for an effort to ram a compromise farm bill through the House today.

It would permit cutting price support levels on cotton, corn and rice but allow planting of more cotton and make changes in programs for the others.

The bill was scheduled for a showdown vote postponed from Monday, when it came to the floor under take-it-or-leave-it procedure requiring a two-thirds vote for passage.

If that fails the bill could be brought up later under more liberal voting procedure, but House leaders have said that is unlikely. They urged passage of the bill so a Senate-House conference can work out final terms.

Although the bill goes far in the direction of lower price supports demanded by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, final action was put over from Monday because of administration Republican opposition.

They have been driving for a vote on provisions of the Senate-passed bill, which Benson has endorsed.

Also lined up against the House bill were Midwestern dairy members disgruntled because no milk changes are provided, city members suspicious of all farm legislation, and diehard foes of any reduction in government price supports.

The Senate bill would lower price support floors to levels favored by Benson. It also would abandon the old parity concept of calculating support levels in favor of a new method based on average market prices.

Parity is a standard, based on 1909-14 farm prices, designed to give the farmer a fair price for his commodities in relation to the cost of things he must buy.

The House bill stuck with the parity system, and rejected the market price theory of the Senate bill. But it also would provide for a gradual reduction in price supports and increased planting allowances for cotton, corn and rice in line with Benson's policy of less government in agriculture.

Postal Rate Too High?

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Do not feel too bad about the new 4-cent postal rate. The Salt Lake Tribune advises that "the pony express used to charge $5 for half an ounce."

Hoffa Denies
Getting Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa told Senate investigators today he had $60,322 of "gambling gains" in the 1948-56 period. He denied that income so listed on tax returns included payoffs in labor disputes.

Hoffa told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee he couldn't spell out details of the gambling gains but that Owen (Bert) Brennan, his pal and a Teamsters vice president, could. Brennan, called to the witness chair, invoked the Fifth Amendment. He said his income taxes are under investigation and he would not be a witness against himself.

Hoffa denied specifically that he got a $17,500 payoff, or any part of that sum, to prevent a Detroit laundry industry strike in 1949.

A group of laundry operators testified Tuesday that they put up the money. There was testimony it was turned over to a labor counselor, now dead.

The stocky Hoffa, natty in a gray suit, turned to the attack at every opportunity in his second day on the witness stand.

His attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, started the proceedings with a detailed accusation against the committee that Hoffa was being subjected to what he called legislative trial.

And Hoffa jauntily took sharp issue with any senator who interrogated him.

He took on Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) when Kennedy asked him why the Teamsters opposed labor legislation being sponsored by Kennedy.

Hoffa asked Kennedy sarcastically: "Why don't you pass the bill?"

In like fashion, Hoffa snapped at Sens. Sam J. Ervin (D-NC), Irving Ives (R-NY) and at Carl Curtis (R-Neb).

Finally, Hoffa got into a sharp argument with Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark) as to whether union leaders have too much power. On several occasions, he broke into McClellan's conversation.

McClellan said in a quiet but ominous voice: "When I talk, you are going to listen and I want you to get that straight."

But Hoffa kept on, arguing vigorously.

Williams, who is counsel for the Teamsters Union as well as Hoffa, specifically protested the committee's plan to put Hoffa on and off the witness stand for a period of weeks. The committee says that will permit Hoffa to make on-the-spot replies to testimony about him.

McClellan said the committee will decide in closed-door hearings whether to continue the practice.

Water Rate Boost Proposed
To Finance $800,000 Job

An ordinance boosting water rates 67 per cent was placed on its first reading last night by City Council. If passed, the ordinance would provide increased income for construction of iron removal, softening facilities plus an elevated 750,000-gallon storage tank.

The ordinance was presented by Ervin Leist, manager of utilities.

For several years Leist and the Board of Public Utilities have been preparing for a method to improve water department operations. The project first was proposed in 1947 and revised in 1954.

Last night's ordinance calls for an increase in annual water department revenue from an estimated $90,000 this year to about $139,000 next year. The increase would be used to pay off an

For the average water user in town the increase would bump his quarterly bill from $5.14 to $8.58.

Leist explained that there are three city zones, each with its own average water bill.

For persons living in Zone 1 (all south of and including the south side of Mill St.) the average quarterly bill is $4.58. That would be boosted to $7.65 under the new rate.

For persons in Zone 2 (all north of and including the north side of Mill St. and including the south side of Main St.) the current average quarterly bill is $5.70. The new rate would make quarterly bills average $9.52.

Persons in Zone 3 (all north of and including the north side of Main St.) are paying average quarterly bills of $5.31. The new rates would make bills average $8.87.

On a city-wide basis, the increase would amount to about 4 cents a day per customer.

Although the rate increase is in the mill now, any water department expansion and improvement will not be attempted at least until 1959 or early 1960, Leist said.

He declared, "We are not trying to cram anything down the necks of the citizenry. If they want the water department improvement they can have it. If not, the whole matter will be dropped."

The proposal calls for issuance of bonds by City Council without the vote of the people. The bonds would be general obligation bonds against the full faith and credit of the entire city, payable from the revenue obtained with the increased water rates.

Bonds issued in this manner can be sold at the present time for about 3½ per cent interest.

ONLY OTHER way to finance the improvement, Leist said, would be to issue second mortgage bonds against the waterworks itself, since there is at the present time a first mortgage indenture against the utility. Rate for second mortgage bonds, if they could be sold, would be prohibitive.

Also, issuance of general obligation bonds for improvement of the waterworks would not be figured when determining the limitation on city debt, which is 5 per cent of the total city tax valuation.

If the city can boost water rates, then get an idea of what the new income will be, general obligation bonds at a favorable rate can be issued. Leist figures that a six-month experience with the new rates will be sufficient to determine if the rate boost will finance the improvement.

The new schedule of rates as compared with the old is:

For the first 400 cubic feet per quarter, 75 cents per 100 cubic feet—old rate was 45 cents;

For the next 30,000 cubic feet per quarter, 50 cents per 100 cubic feet—old rate was 30 cents;

For the next 42,000 cubic feet per quarter, 25 cents per 100 cubic feet—old rate was 15 cents;

All over 72,400 cubic feet per quarter, 15 cents per 100 cubic feet—old rate was 7½ cents.

The last rate category affects only about six commercial users, Leist pointed out.

He said about 15½ per cent of the water customers now pay just the minimum bill of $1.80 a quarter. That would be increased to $3 a quarter.

The improvement program was OK'd by the city Board of Utilities which is responsible for the operation of the water department. Members of the board are John Mader, chairman, Dr. Ned Griner and George Fissell.

ENGINEERING reports and estimates were made in 1947 for expansion and improvement of the water facilities locally. Part of the improvements were accomplished in 1954, but softening, iron removal and construction of an elevated tank were cut from the program. The board of utilities now proposes (Continued on Page Two)

Dulles Foresees
Threat of War

Indirect Aggression
Labeled as Cause

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today indirect aggression threatens another world war. "This time," he said, "with even more disastrous consequences."

World events now show "disturbing symptoms such as preceded and forecast World War II," Dulles said in a speech at a luncheon given for him by the American Chamber of Commerce in Brazil.

Dulles spoke to the American business community just before flying with Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek to Brasilia, the nation's capital—under construction 600 miles northwest of Rio. It was the secretary's last stop on his 2½-day visit to Brazil. He was to fly back to Washington tonight.

Dulles and Kubitschek were reported near agreement that a summit conference of the presidents of the 21 American republics should be called to knit together the strained ties between the United States and its Latin neighbors.

The first gathering of American presidents since July 1956 would launch "Operation Pan American," a drive to strengthen inter-American relations. Informants said, the drive would include a full-scale attack on economic underdevelopment in Latin America.

Dulles at a press conference reiterated the U.S. position that private capital should carry the burden of development and U.S. government aid is limited.

The prospect of a summit meeting to be attended by President Eisenhower caused some surprise. Since Kubitschek began pushing the idea in June, Washington had taken the position that the foreign ministers could accomplish more than the heads of state, who would be bound by more formality and protocol.

One source said the Latin-American ambassadors in Washington would meet with U.S. officials, probably in September, to discuss a summit meeting. If all 21 nations agreed the confab should be held, the Organization of American States would make the preparations.

Hope Said Fading
For Arrest in Case of Slasher

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hopes faded today for a quick end to the search for the abductor who sexually maimed a 7-year-old Columbus boy. A top suspect was released by police after questioning.

Detective Sid Hoyt said a 20-year-old Columbus youth, arrested earlier today in connection with the case, was released without charge after police checked out his story that he was with friends in Portsmouth, 89 miles away, when the attack occurred last Sunday.

But Hoyt said police still have a few leads in the search for the abductor. He declined to say what the leads are.

The young victim was reported in good condition in a hospital where doctors said he is expected to recover completely.

Human Torch Story Starts
To Fall Apart, Police Say

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The sketchy story that Teamsters business agent Frank Kierdorf gave after he stumbled into a hospital, burned almost from head to foot, began falling apart today.

At the same time, police had a warrant for the arrest of Kierdorf's uncle, Herman Kierdorf, either a vengeance-bent hunter or the fear-shaken prey of an anonymous telephone threat.

Herman, a former Teamsters business agent, disappeared after swearing he would get even with the people who his nephew said set him afire and left him, pain-racked and nearly naked, on a hospital lawn.

While the 56-year-old Frank clung to a thin strand of life in a police-guarded hospital room, Prosecutor Frederick Ziem said:

"The man had prior medication before he ever came to the hospital. Furthermore, there is no evidence to back up his statement that he rolled in the grass to put out the flames."

Ziem based his conclusions on the word of a pathologist, Dr. Richard E. Olsen, who said he found traces of a saline on Kierdorf's neck and face that was not administered at the hospital.

The new loopholes in Frank's story only piled higher the multitude of unanswered questions.

Both Frank and his uncle Herman are ex-convicts with Teamsters Union connections. Frank is business agent for the 2,000-member Teamsters Local 332 in nearby Flint. Herman quit only last week as business agent for Detroit Joint Teamsters Council 43 and as an aide to International Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Both were reluctant witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee.

For the first 15 hours after staggering through a hospital door at 1 a. m. Monday, Frank even refused to tell who he was.

Finally, at the urging of Herman, he told a story of two men he did not know tricking him out of his house Sunday night, taking him at gunpoint to a wooded area, dousing him in a fluid, and setting him afire.

Herman, 68, told police that 15 minutes before he learned Frank had been burned a strange voice told him on the telephone: "You're next."

No New Plans Due
To Head Off Fall
School Crises

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower said today he has no plans to attend the proposed special session of the United Nations General Assembly.

But the President said the United States wants to discuss the whole sweep of Middle East problems since, he said, it would not be practical to restrict debate to just the problems of Lebanon.

There has been speculation on the part of some officials here that Soviet Premier Khrushchev—having turned down a Security Council summit session—might suddenly decide to attend the General Assembly meeting which he proposed in a letter to Eisenhower Tuesday. Most informed officials, however, think Khrushchev actually has no intention of coming.

Eisenhower told a news conference that he has no plan at the moment to go to New York for the General Assembly meeting. He also said that he knows of no general intention on the part of other heads of government to go there.

But he reminded reporters that each of the 81 national delegations can be headed by the head of government and he said positively that if he finds it necessary or desirable he will participate. Eisenhower's treatment of the matter had the appearance of a deliberate hint at a possible personal role in the U. N. discussions.

Behind this, it was learned, was White House consideration of the idea of having the President make an opening statement of the reasons for past U. S. action in the Middle East crisis and the prospects for this country's future policies.

Though officials did not suggest the possibility as a part of any presidential design, it was evident that if Eisenhower and Khrushchev as well as British Prime Minister Macmillan and other leaders all showed up at U. N. headquarters there would be at least the makings of a summit conference.

Eisenhower told a questioner that he does not agree that Khrushchev's letter Tuesday turning down a U. N. Security Council summit meeting and dropping Khrushchev's proposal for a special five-power session on the Mideast had removed all possibility of a conference at the summit.

Eisenhower said the United States' purpose in any U. N. debate on the Middle East was first to show that this country has acted within the U. N. Charter and second to concentrate on constructive measures to help the people of the area.

He said he has no faith in negative measures, and troops will not win the peace.

Asked whether the United States accepts Russia as a power in the Middle East and whether it would be prepared to join in economic development programs and border guarantees with the Soviet Union, Eisenhower said this nation ought to act through the U. N. in the matter.

Apparently referring primarily to economic measures, he said the United States would be prepared (Continued on Page Two)

Man Swims Miles
While Chased by Own Motorboat

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A Hollywood man swam three miles Tuesday night, yelling and praying for help, while his circling motorboat threatened to cut him to bits.

Police said Richard W. Taylor, 28, related that shortly after 8 p. m. he left alone in his speedboat for the 21-mile run to Santa Catalina Island. Three miles out a heavy swell pitched him into the sea.

The pilotless craft began circling him. Several times he dived to avoid its churning propeller.

His cries and the motorboat's whine were heard. Two Coast Guard cutters sped to the scene. One took the motorboat in tow as it ran out of gas.

Taylor had swum to within 100 yards of the shore, a lifeguard brought him ashore, unconscious. He was revived and taken home.

Park Question
Goes on Ballot
In November

Circleville voters will be asked in November if they want a park commission.

Today Mayor Ben H. Gordon filed with the Pickaway County Board of Elections a petition asking the issue be put on the November ballot.

The issue is the first step in a movement to obtain better control over park matters and provide improved park facilities, Gordon indicated.

Several years ago, ex-City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins advised City Council that state statute required the voters of Circleville to create a park board, thereby outlawing the park board organized at that time.

Ohio 'Office Court' Is Known to Few

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's statehouse annex houses two courts — one of them virtually unknown to the public.

Almost everyone has heard of the Ohio Supreme Court, the state's highest tribunal. It sits in open sessions on the third floor of the building just east of the Capitol.

But few know about Atty. Gen. William Saxbe's "Office Court" that meets periodically in closed sessions on the first floor.

"Office Court" is the name applied to meetings of Saxbe's lawyer assistants to hammer out legal opinions issued by the attorney general.

Formal opinions, issued to public officials only, often become necessary when doubts arise over the meaning and application of a draft, express doubts or say whether it should be amended. If the verdict is inconclusive, the matter is reassigned and the process starts all over.

After the discussions, attorneys vote for or against the opinion law. They frequently bridge the gap between the time doubt develops and courts of record decide the issue or the Legislature clarifies the law.

When Saxbe gets a request for an opinion from a county prosecutor or other public official, for whom he acts as counsel, an assistant is assigned to study the statutes and draft an opinion.

His work then goes before the "Office Court" for a fine tooth combing by a score of colleagues. Hugh A. Sherer, Saxbe's veteran chief counsel, presides at the informal sessions.

Assistants sit at big tables in a long room lined with law book and volumes of opinions by former attorneys general. Many a legal eagle in later life developed his wings in the often spirited and sometimes humorous debates.

Opinions surviving the "Office Court" are reviewed by Sherer and Huntington Carlile, first assistant attorney general, before going to Saxbe for a final check and signing.

Of the nearly 250 opinions issued by Saxbe, in addition to approval of state contracts and similar matters, only one has been lost in a Supreme Court test.

That opinion, over Sherer's objections, led to removal of Dr. Robert A. Haines from state payroll as director of mental hygiene and correction. The high court overturned the opinion and restored Haines with back pay.

Infrequently an issue defies solution by an opinion. Such an issue stemmed from a dispute over a new law on the financing of sewer and water systems outside municipalities. Several million dollars worth of projects were stymied for months while Saxbe's office wrestled with the problem. Most opinions take about 30 days.

The state Legislature in special session revised the law to meet objections of securities experts. They had refused to approve bond issues under the former law to finance the projects.

Copies of formal opinions go to prosecuting attorneys of all 88 counties, law libraries, magazines issued by associations of public officials and the Ohio Bar publication. They also are entered as annotations to published volumes of Ohio laws.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am the father of a girl, 22, who desires to meet eligible men. She has had poor success, so far.

I own a nice home in the country, 15 miles north of this city where my business is located. My daughter graduated from high school in town, and spent one semester in a Southern university. Her health prevented her from continuing in college, and now she is employed in a local book store. She enrolled in a famous dancing school, in hopes of learning to dance, and also meet nice men. No luck, she says. Our country churches have, as members, old and young married couples, but very few young men.

I am trying to help Edith, but feel that possibly I will have to sell my country home and move to the city. Please advise us, if possible.

DEAR P.Y.: In a nutshell, you are on your toes trying to help your daughter find a husband—preferably a good one.

Well, that is very kind of you; but perhaps no more than a really responsible father should do, to try to keep his daughter on the inside track of love and protection, in a rough old world.

You indicate that Edith's present problem is how to meet eligible men. But I think, rather, that her difficulty is how to attract men. Any girl who has been through high school, who has spent a semester on a college campus, and who now has a job in a city bookstore, is not a recluse from society. Edith has been meeting men for years. But evidently they overlook and bypass her.

So, the crux question seems to be—what does Edith lack, that men admire and desire, and gravitate to, in womanhood? If you can find the answer to that, and put her in line to correct the deficit or modify the handicap, you'll have done as much for her as anyone CAN do, I think.

Your acute concern about her present predicament, plus your extremist readiness to pull up stakes, if necessary, to make new opportunities for her, suggests two clues as to what may be wrong:

(1) Either you've kept her infantile, by supervising all her experiences too closely—so that she's unable to swim on her own, so to speak, in the community pool of contemporary-age activities, or (2) you've suddenly developed a guilty conscience about blindly or selfishly denying her a chance at boyfriends and a "social life," earlier.

To get on the beam of having boy friends and beaux and chances to marry, a girl needs: (1) Winsome looks—pretty, nicely dressed, shiny-clean; (2) Self-confidence and a fund of social grace and savvy, based on good relations with prudent parents; and accustomedness to using her home as a center for friendships; (3) In grained ease and skill at group-type recreations—such as swimming, tennis, skating, skiing, dancing, riding, and bridge (or other vigorous card games); (4) An environment that brings her into continuing associations with boys and girls her age.

Huge Atomic Sub Set for Launching

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—America's largest submarine—the nuclear-powered Triton — will be launched here Aug. 19.

Her builder, announcing this today, said the Triton will be the first vessel in history to use two atomic reactors for propulsion.

The 447-foot, 5,900-ton ship also will be the country's first nuclear-powered defense submarine.

The Triton is a radar picket submarine, built as a floating electronic island able to detect enemy planes, missiles and underwater vessels.

The Triton is designed to stay on station permanently. Her power units will supply enough power to last for two or more years. Her speed and operating depth are classified.

Universe Destined for Oblivion?

Astronomers at the Palomar Observatory peering through the 200-inch Hale telescope have come up with a shocker. They have discovered that the universe is twice as old as they previously thought. Further, they have found that remote stars are twice as far away.

It seems the whole trouble has been an error in measuring the distance to a "neighbor" star, the nearby Andromeda. It is the one used by astronomers as a

At any given moment in America there are perhaps 15 million people involved with the water wagon—5 million climbing on, 5 million riding precariously atop it, and 5 million falling off.

Ability to ride the water wagon gracefully, without losing either one's own balance or boring one's friends, is probably the sternest test of character in our civilization.

Wagon riders tend to fall into generally recognizable types.

Russian Aggression Astute

The American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker group which often speaks out on public questions, has issued a mimeographed statement, the first paragraph of which reads:

"In the face of the crisis in the Middle East, the American Friends Service Committee feels implied to assert its conviction that United States military action in Lebanon has heightened international tensions and has endangered the peace of the world without contributing to the long-range security of any Middle Eastern nation."

It is, of course, humanly impossible to ignore everything that has happened in the world since 1914 because what has happened has changed man's relationship to man, increased poverty in many areas of the world, destroyed free societies and paved the way for the gigantic efforts toward imperialism, first on the part of Hitler, and then of Stalin and Khrushchev.

Precisely, what would this Quaker Committee have the United States do about all this? There are alternatives:

1. The United States could reject the facts of history, decline to arm, and wait to be absorbed into the Soviet Universal State;

3. The means of exchange have become so disrupted since 1914 that no economy is safe from the erosion of incorrect practices. This has caused a universal inflation which is a tax upon human activity and is tending to eliminate the middle class and to create a new society of a ruling elite and a proletariat.

Now how does pacifism affect these issues? The Quaker Committee says that what the United States has done precludes "the constructive actions called for by our democratic philosophy and religious heritage." To this, I would like to quote a statement made in the House of Commons by Arthur Henderson, a member of the British Labour Party. He said:

"... that new techniques of indirect aggression constituted a serious flaw in the United Nations Charter. There was no provision under the auspices of the United Nations for enabling action to be taken to counter this type of aggression.

"Modern methods of infiltrations, smuggling of arms and the use of the radio could bring about a situation of even greater potential danger than the result of a direct attack by one country across the frontiers of another."

We sent troops; the others sent devilish destruction. Which is worse? Or to put it another way: which is more effective? Whereas our troops give to a people the impression of renewed imperialism which we do not intend at all, Russia's constant propaganda and infiltration give the impression of friendship for a people they are about to gobble up in their empire. It is an astute operation.

Try and Stop Me

HORACE DODGE had an old gatekeeper on his estate who neglected his duties shamefully, but had been around so long nobody dared criticize him too severely. One day, however, Dodge's ire was aroused to the point where he hollered, "You're fired!" and drove off in high dudgeon to Detroit. When he drove home that evening, however, there was the old gatekeeper big as life. "Confound it!" roared Dodge. "Didn't I discharge you this morning?" "You did," agreed the gatekeeper cheerfully, "but I forgive you."

In Providence, a thirsty soul found an unorthodox use for a Gideon Bible. He entered a hotel room occupied by one of his Scottish associates and slapped the book on the bureau. Seven-Point Cancer Check

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

In the past, I have repeatedly advised you about the seven danger signals of cancer. Just recently, I discussed the "seven tragic diagnostic mistakes" of cancer.

Now I'd like to talk about another of cancer's series of seven — a seven point program for a cancer examination.

With few exceptions, the various types of cancer begin as a local tumor. If we detect these tumors promptly, and launch proper treatment immediately, we have a very good chance of curing the cancer.

The best place to detect early cancer is in the doctor's office. The best time to detect it, is any time the patient arranges for a physical examination.

Perhaps he visits the office as part of his regular annual or semi-annual health checkup. Or, maybe some symptom not even remotely related to cancer brings him in.

Whatever the reason for his request for an examination, a doctor should use this opportunity to make a simple and easy check for possible cancer.

In the great majority of cases, cancer occurs in seven readily accessible areas. Examination for lesions in these areas can be carried out easily without complicated instruments.

Therefore, the Committee on Cancer Control of the Illinois State

Medical Society has urged doctors throughout the state to check the following points for possible cancer:

1. Lips, mouth and throat.

2. Neck.

3. Breasts.

4. The abdomen.

5. The rectum.

6. The rectum.

7. A vaginal examination, including speculum genitals and prostate in males.

In some instances, additional examinations such as chest X-rays, G.I. X-ray series, proctoscopy and stool examination for blood will be required.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union both look clumsy in their almost fantastic exchange of proposals for a summit meeting which now is dead.

Premier Khrushchev scored an early propaganda victory by proposing the meeting but then — from what seemed sheer impulse rather than shrewdness — got himself into a box from which he finally escaped by calling the whole thing off.

The Eisenhower administration, reluctant about such a meeting at all, got pressured into agreeing to one. It finally suggested the kind of get-together that almost certainly would have turned into a name-calling, shouting match.

If the administration decided to agree but only under conditions it felt Khrushchev couldn't or wouldn't accept, it succeeded. The final Soviet refusal to meet on American terms caused no unhappiness among key officials here.

Khrushchev got a two-edged propaganda jump: by proposing the meeting and at the same time by accusing the United States and Britain of aggression in sending their troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

It was hardly the way to start toward a peaceful meeting. He proposed the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India meet outside the United Nations and, if they reached agreements, make recommendations to the U.N.

(He wasn't alone in this idea. French Premier de Gaulle didn't want a summit meeting in the U.N. either.)

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had very little stomach for the Khrushchev proposal. Ever since last December they had opposed a summit meeting without thorough preparation and agreement on what would be discussed.

Khrushchev wanted a meeting in a hurry. British Prime Minister Macmillan agreed but suggested it be held in the U.N. Security Council. Eisenhower and Dulles could either agree or break with Britain. Under this pressure, they agreed.

Then Khrushchev pulled what looked like a huge boner. He shot back his acceptance fast, so fast he didn't have much time to think

Nasser Has Headaches Too In Current Mideast Crisis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Gamal Abdel Nasser has headaches, too.

The Arab East's noisy turmoil gives the impression that the United Arab Republic President is riding the crest of an all-engulfing wave. But there are shoals ahead.

In the bustling northern cities of what now is Nasser's Syrian province there was dancing in the streets at the news of the July 14 coup in Iraq.

Did that please Nasser? Not altogether. In his July 23 Cairo speech Nasser went out of his way to be sharply critical of northern Syria.

Here was the rub:

The Iraqi coup was a revolution by nationalists — perhaps even extreme nationalists. But was it wholly a Nasser revolution? The man who led it, Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, by his own account had plotted revolt against Premier Nuri Said's rule ever since 1934, 18 years before he ever heard of Nasser. Those who supported the revolt owed Nasser little if anything for its success.

Indeed, its suddenness seemed to have caught Nasser by surprise. Naturally Nasser pictured the Iraqi revolt as a personal triumph. Yet he must have had some serious misgivings about the future.

Many Syrians, after passionately pursuing total union with Egypt, suddenly found themselves restive under Nasser's rule. There had been well founded reports of anti-Nasser manifestations in northern Syria, whose practical businessmen chafed at what they considered the U.A.R.'s economic madnesses.

The northern Syrians showed only that they were pro-Iraq. A cherished dream seemed within their grasp: union with Iraq.

This could mean trouble for Nasser.

Iraq has great oil and mineral wealth. She has an oil-financed economic development program well under way. Syria's economy remains sound. Politically Syria is far more sophisticated than Egypt. And Egypt has little but Nasser.

Syria and Iraq together in the U.A.R. surely would overbalance the Egyptians and eventually dominate the union.

What does this mean to the West? For one thing, it offers some assurance that, barring grotesque Western blunders, oil will continue flowing from the Persian gulf and through Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines. There are good reasons for expecting this.

The Iraqis will continue to want the Western foreign exchange from their oil production. They are aware, too, that Western Europe can do without Iraqi oil if necessary, so long as Kuwait's vast production potential is available. So nationalization of Iraq's oil producing facilities might prove a boomerang.

But one of Nasser's major goals has been to get his hands on some of the oil revenues from the "have-not" countries for the benefit of "have-not" Egypt. How does he hasten this without bringing Iraq into the U. A. R. and endangering Egypt's pre-eminence in the union?

Nasser has other troubles too. The momentum his movement gained by events of the past three months will be lost if he stands still now. But can he afford another major explosion under his auspices?

Nasser has enemies in his own country. He is less popular with Egypt's literate population than he is outside. Egypt's economy is in a sorry mess which has required her to pay a bonus on the Egyptian pound in foreign transactions. On the political side, many of Nasser's own supporters fear communism and dread further involvement with the Soviet bloc.

Equally important, many Arabs clearly were shocked by realization that recent events could make the Middle East the cockpit of World War III.

Nasser can ill afford new explosions now. But neither can he afford to halt his violent propaganda, even now pouring into psychotic little Jordan. Probably only the arrival of British troops saved the life of King Hussein, and their departure surely would mean a new blowoff.

A Soviet aim is to keep the Middle East in turmoil and off balance.

If Nasser tries to profit from Soviet aims, he may build up forces which eventually will destroy him. If he does not attempt to profit from Soviet purposes, he risks losing the momentum he has created and the support of the more impatient nationalists of Jordan and the Saudi peninsula.

Nasser's dilemmas may point a course. Western diplomacy could attempt to understand the paradoxes of the Arab East. It could seize the opportunity to give the more moderate nationalists something tangible to grasp in the way of support for their reasonable aspirations.

$150,000 in Gems Lost by Couple

Louis Hand, a curtain manufacturer, said the jewels belonging to his wife and $3,000 worth of clothing were taken from the car, which was left locked at the Shaker House Motor Hotel in Warrensville Twp. from late Sunday night until Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney said another $30,000 worth of jewels belonging to another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cohen of Miami Beach, Fla., was missed by the thieves.

Sweeney said the jewelry was in "big pieces" for the most part and would be easy to trace.

Marriage Licenses

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—There are a lot of people who might have trouble proving they are married.

Clerk of Court Andrew Palo has between 10,000 and 20,000 original marriage certificates that have never been turned over to the owners. Some are as old as 1887, before Montana became a state. They run into the 1930s.

Palo explained that years ago the Clerk of the District Court kept the original marriage certificates on file. Then, in the 1920s, a Montana attorney general ruled that the original licenses should be delivered to the owners.

Californians Plan 'Suicide' Boat Trip

HAMBLE, England (AP) — Three young Californians said today they plan to sail a 10-ton racing boat across the Atlantic even though yachting veterans say it will be suicide.

They are Bill Ayres, 29, Garden Grove; and James May, 27, and Henry Burleson, 28, both of Glendale.

They are refitting their sloop, Lerche, and plan to start before the end of August.

The Lerche has a beam of only 8 feet and an over-all length of 41 feet. Seasoned yachtsmen said the Lerche and her crew will be lucky to get through the English Channel.

"We are looking for adventure and no one is going to stop us," said Ayres, a veteran merchant seaman.

Inflation Again? U.S. Housewife Can See Those Prices Climb

EDITOR'S NOTE: Is the stock market right about more inflation being a sure thing? What can be done about it? In the following, the first in a series of three, the Associated Press business news analyst discusses the impact on the consumer.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Ask the housewife and she'll tell you more inflation is already here.

She isn't talking about what she doesn't buy—the higher priced ton of steel or pound of copper. She's talking about what the family pays out—the higher prices for meat, the increased cost of her husband's getting to work, the bigger bills for keeping the children healthy, the latest rent boost.

Ask the businessman and he'll tell you more inflation is a real threat. He's talking about the increases in the price of metals and other basic materials, the higher wage scales, the greater transportation costs—all pushing him toward raising his prices to you.

Ask the economist and he'll tell you more inflation isn't a sure thing yet but a tossup.

He concedes the threat from the increase in the money supply which seems sure as the government borrows more and more from the commercial banks. But he also notes that while there's likely to be too much money around, there aren't too few goods for it to chase — the capacity to make more goods is already in place waiting for demand to call it into production.

Inflation is no economic theory for the consumer. For him it simply means that the cost of living goes up.

If more inflation is really coming for sure, your present income won't buy as much. If inflation is big enough, your income won't buy what you need, let alone what you'd like to have if you could.

If you're lucky enough to get your income boosted along with the cost of living, you're likely to just keep even with what in time can become a losing game.

For the consumer a new threat of inflation comes on top of what looks bad enough right now. By official figures what $1 would buy 10 years ago, it takes $1.24 to buy now. If you talk about what a buck would buy in 1939 you have to talk now about what $2 will buy.

Food prices average 8 per cent higher than last year. The Agriculture Department says 60 per cent of the increase is due to farmers' getting higher prices and 40 per cent to marketing concerns' getting more. Meat prices seem high in the store. Well, live hogs are bringing 11 per cent more now than last summer; beef on the hoof 22 per cent more.

But food prices are moved up or down as much by weather and marketing problems as by pure monetary inflation. It's in other

Jet Age Clothes for Men To Be Slim, Trim, Colorful

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Written for Central Press
Women's styles are reflecting the "sack look," which some people seem to regard as pretty sad at times, but the men may be in for something new, also.

Nearly 4,000 of the nation's haberdashers at the annual sessions of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers got a "sneak preview" of what the well-dressed male may be wearing a few years hence in the jet and satellite age.

If the sack style allows milady to forget about a bulge here and there for a season, there is no such moratorium on trimness in store for the male, because the latest for him are all closely form-fitting like the garb of science fiction heroes.

The designers want to discard the "drab look" of men's suits as they have been for about a century, and junk the "ivy league look." They say, men in the space age have to be colorful, dashing characters.

THIS IS AS it should be, say the stylists, because throughout nature it is the male of the species, not the female, that usually wears the gaudiest plumage.

In the days of Sir Walter Raleigh, Beau Brummel, and the other pace-setters of the real "haut mode" for men, they pulled out all the stops when it came to wearing bright colors, fancy lace, frills and furbelows!

Any self-respecting male would be ashamed, reason the designers, to show up on another planet wearing an ordinary business suit. If there are inhabitants there he might be laughed into outer space because of a garment which they condemn as neither "flattering nor functional" in its lines.

So the "space traveler" model that was shown to the amazed haberdashers consists of a coat of an eggshell shade fabric and trousers of black mohair. The waist is tight and the sleeves have pockets at the wrist.

The coat is a cardigan style with two top pockets, and tabs on the sleeves and sides. The "highwater pants" are cut off half way between knee and ankle. Worn with this are "speed slippers," which are vaguely reminiscent of the sandals worn by ancient Romans.

The coat of the "explorer suit" is single-breasted, three-fields that the consumer may be hurt next.

The recession didn't bring the general drop in prices that many expected, so any new inflation would start from a high level.

The average consumer spends 14 per cent of his income on durable goods. Their average price reached a record high in November 1957 at 110.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average, and it slipped back only to 109.6 per cent in June—before the rise in metal prices which bring the new threat.

Food prices are today's villain. They seem likely to ease in the months ahead. But standing in the wings are threatening rises in other prices now—in durables, and in the cost of the services you've come to demand.

And if monetary inflation really takes hold, prices could rise all along the line.

Next: What will more inflation do to business and its recovery?

This is the 'space traveler' suit. Note the 'highwater pants,' 'speed slippers' and pockets on sleeves.

button, collarless, with lapel free, and no forge. An imitation collar has a tie connection. The trousers are finished off with a cuff on the bottom to match button sleeves of the coat, which are tapered with a cuff to button. Silver buttons on the front, sleeve cuffs and trouser cuffs add flash.

A silver coat in silk and jurez with a stand-up black silk collar is featured on the "leisure suit," and the trousers have a moon-shaped top of "California style" and are of black mohair. To avoid bulges that might disturb the streamlined effect, there are no pockets in the trousers.

Apparently they will have cock-tails in outer space, because there is a "cocktail suit" designed with a jacket of green silk, full maroon lined, with black silk facing and cuffs. The buttons are gold and the trousers of black mohair.

Since it is acknowledged that men do not follow fashion dictates as readily as women, the stylists expect some trouble getting these across at first. The designers have been quietly entering wedges in

Plan House Work For Easy Living

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
County Home Economics Agent

In the average home, undone deeds often pile up with monotonous regularity! This includes those things one plans to do today—don't get around to, but will surely do "someday".

This ever-growing "someday mountain" is often caused by not planning ahead or not using the many work simplification methods that have been perfected. The key note of work simplification is to make every motion count.

To determine if every motion counts, one should ask these six questions:— Do I— (1) Leave out any part of a task I can? (2) Make one task out of two or more? (3) Use the best tool for the task? (4) Keep everything within easy reach? (5) Make both hands work? (6) Sit to work whenever I can?

Many homemakers have found they can do their various tasks in half the time by leaving out unnecessary motions. First they make a study of the motions used for each task, then plan a new method which is easier and makes their work more interesting as well as quicker.

Jobs which have been done again and again for years need study, as well as those jobs which haven't been done so long.

IRONING is one of those time-consuming and perennial household jobs for which the average homemaker has little enthusiasm. Mabel Sarbaugh, extension home management specialist, Ohio State University, places special emphasis on the fact that an easy job of ironing begins with the shopping trips. If one is looking for ways to save ironing work, fabrics should be selected that require little pressing—few, if any, ruffles, pleats and such.

Another specialist's suggestion to lighten the laundry job is to take a look at standards. Is it absolutely necessary to iron sheets, tea towels and pillowcases? Can not most, if not all, ironing be done sitting down?

The cause of being tired at the end of each day may be working

Fat Lamb Show To Be Tuesday

The second annual Pickaway County Fat Lamb Show will be next Tuesday.

The Lamb Show will be conducted as last year. The show will be held in connection with the regular lamb pool at the Pickaway Livestock yards.

There will be competition in single lamb, pen of 5 and pen of 10 lambs. All Pickaway County sheepmen are encouraged to bring their market lambs to the pool on this date and enter them in the competition.

The rules that have been set up by the Pickaway County Sheep Improvement Committee are: Owner must live in Pickaway County, there will be no blocking or grooming, and only one entry per class per person.

The Pickaway County Banker's Assn. again has provided trophies to the first, second and third places in each class.

An Original Menu

IDABEL, Okla. (AP)—When 200 Indians got together for a tribal festival, there were several real American dishes that aren't served in many restaurants.

They included tafaulla (Indian hominy), banana shuck bread, and tanchakahona (cracked corn with pork).

Impatient Customer

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Police who picked up a teen-age boy in a stolen taxicab asked him why he did it.

"I called for a cab and waited 45 minutes. They didn't come so I went to the taxi stand and took one," he replied.

Wet soil should never be plowed because it becomes too hard for growing crops when the moisture evaporates.

Ohio Dairy Day Planned Friday

Dr. Earl Butz, former assistant Secretary of Agriculture and now Dean of Agriculture at Purdue University, will be guest speaker at Ohio Dairy Day, Wooster, Friday, according to George Hamrick, county agent, agriculture.

Topic of the featured speaker will be "Education—Our Inexhaustible Resource." Dr. Butz, a recognized leader in dairy circles and in agriculture in general, served as assistant Secretary of Agriculture under Ezra Taft Benson from 1954 to 1957 and was a member of the Board of Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Last year he was appointed dean of Purdue's College of Agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment station and the Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. Butz was a Noble County, Indiana, farmer before going to Purdue in 1933. He taught agricultural economics at his alma mater after graduation and studied agricultural conditions in Europe, the Near East and the Orient.

Dairy Day, which is the largest of all of the annual Ohio station field days, features a program for farmers and their wives and children. Research results in dairy science will be featured in illustrated talks and in educational exhibits for adult farmers. This will be accompanied by a special program on flowers for the women and a dairy judging program for farm youths.

Included in the program will be talks by station scientists on a simple test for milk fat, starting calves on high milk diets, dairy beef, the need for care when changing rations and the latest in prevention of milk fever. Results of research on sire selection, heifer type and future production, and inherited abnormalities of dairy cattle will be discussed.

Charged with passing the phony money were William E. Ogletree, 29, and Lucian U. Lambert, 25, both of Windsor, and Jean Paul Pariseau, 42, of Montreal. Their bond was set at $5,000 each.

Stoutsville Wins Acme Loop Crown

Stoutsville captured the Columbus Acme League baseball championship yesterday by crushing Clintonville, 12-3, in a vital playoff game at Stoutsville.

The win was a measure of sweet revenge for Stoutsville which had suffered a double-header loss to the Clintonville nine Sunday. Both teams went into yesterday's test deadlocked for first place with identical 7-7 records.

The newly crowned champions also earned the right to represent this area in the Acme State Tournament which starts tomorrow at Ohio State University. Manager Kenny Good's outfit will meet a team from Mercer and Auglaize Counties.

Five runs in the first inning gave Stoutsville a strong head of steam in downing the highly regarded Clintonville aggregation. For insurance the Fairfield Counties added six tallies in the third and one in the fourth.

CLINTONVILLE managed one run in the second and two in the sixth, but that was all.

Don Maynard, Stoutsville Mound ace, was in command all the way as he set the visitors down with only four hits, all singles.

The hardworking hurler fanned five and walked four for a good evening's work. Van Tassel, who dropped Stoutsville in both games Sunday, was charged with the loss.

Maynard was backed up with some lusty hitting power as his mates came through with nine bingles, including doubles by Harry Strawser, Bob Caudill and Gary Stewart.

Strawser, R. Smith and R. Crites each poked two hits for the winners, while Caudill and Stewart each reached base all four times at bat.

Another valuable assist came from Randy Crites and Smith, each with three runs batted in. In the defensive department, Catcher Strawser rifled the ball around the infield for four important pickoffs which halted possible Clintonville scoring threats.

CLINTONVILLE committed five errors and Stoutsville bobbled four times which didn't cause too much trouble.

If the Stoutsville baseballers win Thursday they will play again Friday. If successful Friday, they are slated again Saturday.

Temple Paces Redlegs to 6-5 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—The leading hitter for Cincinnati's Redlegs today is a fiery, tobacco-chewing little infielder with a knack for belting singles in the clutch—Johnny Temple.

His three-for-four performance Tuesday night sparked the Redlegs in a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over Philadelphia's Phils. It set his average at .296.

And the wiry, 163-pound second baseman was in on the big rallies. That's because he is a leading producer of what Manager Birdie Tebbetts calls "productive hitting"—those delightful singles and doubles that keep a rally going.

Frankie Robinson's ninth-inning clutch double scored the two runs that sealed the victory. Temple, who had doubled, came in with a homer, his eighth this season.

In the seventh inning when the Reds finally broke through Jack Sanford's pitching for two runs, Temple got the rally started with a single. Then Jerry Lynch belted the tying run.

In the decisive ninth, an error by Ted Kazanski put Walt Dropo safe on first base and Temple's double followed.

That's when Dick Farrell took over the Phillie pitching. He got Lynch and Bob Thurman to pop out. But first sacker George Crowe belted a run-making single and then came Robinson's big double.

231 Entries Ready To Vie For Lush Publinx Prizes

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's public links golfers were practically in a prize-filled paradise here today.

Nothing like the 25th state championship race has ever happened to the gang of public course "hackers" who usually play for peanuts in their annual free-for-all.

This silver anniversary 72-hole medal play classic has an unprecedented prize list. The biggest field in its history—231—goes after the $3,500 in merchandise in Thursday's opening round. Another 18-hole is scheduled Friday, with the 36-hole stretch Saturday.

In the championship race the first to score a hole-in-one on the 160-yard 10th hole gets a new station wagon. A hole-in-one on the 165-yard 12th is good for a full set of clubs.

At least 20 trophies, including the Sylvanus P. Germaine cup emblematic of the title, will be awarded. All 60 players in Saturday's final rounds are due to receive a prize of some kind.

The Springfield committee has arranged a banquet at a downtown hotel Thursday night.

Each player, who pays a $10 entry fee, will be identified for galleries through new bag tags, playing numbers and loud speakers. All four rounds will be carried on radio and portions will be televised.

Each entrant gets a free daily paper with the scores. Each also get transportation to and from practice ranges, no free swings being allowed on the crowded 6,174-yard, par 71 Snyder Park battlefield.

Driving and pitching contests, with a host of prizes and no entry fee, will be held following Friday's round.

Adding a bit of frosting to the cake was today's pro-amateur best-ball event. Some 40 professionals, including two former public links champions, each team up with three amateurs for a crack at some glamorous prizes. The top four professionals will split up $700 in cash, while $700 in merchandise goes to the amateurs.

Don Nist of Canton, the defending king, and seven other former champions are in the tournament's huge field. They include Jay Krochmalny of Toledo, who won just 20 years ago while serving as bartender at the host Sunningdale course in Toledo; Dick Ryan (1941), Cliff Rhein (1932) and Dave Daniels (1955), all of Columbus; Jack Zimmerman of Dayton (1950 and 1954); Ralph Schneider of Cleveland (1949), and Len Pietras of Toledo (1936).

In today's pro-amateur were Val Chiverrini of Toledo, the tournament's only three-time winner who turned pro after his 1942, 1947 and 1948 conquests, and Mel Carpenter of Columbus, now a professional after winning in 1933 and 1934.

Two close games marked District No. 8 softball play at Ted Lewis Park last night.

Fireworks were provided by Circleville Merchants who edged Laurelville, 4-3, and River Oil which had anything but an easy time downing Croppies' All-Stars, 2-0.

The Merchants were outthit, 11-10, but winning pitcher Sandy Hill was able to bear down in the clutch. Their run output came with one in the first, two in the third and one in the fifth.

Laurelville made a game of it by scoring twice in the first and once in the fifth.

HILL PICKED up the win by fanning six and walking one. Congrove, charged with the loss, whiffed one and walked one. An added punch for the winners came on a triple by Phifer and doubles by Pettibone and Bumgarner. Each of the swatters had two hits for the evening.

Edwards, Pritchard, Rutter and Higgins each poled two bingles for Laurelville's losing cause.

The River Oil-All-Stars game turned out to be a grueling pitching duel between John Farnham of River Oil and Harry Strawser of the All-Stars.

Farnham allowed only two hits and Strawser proved almost as tough by permitting three. However, two of River Oil's blows went for extra bases, with Delong cracking a triple and Bryant a double.

Francis had the other hit for RO, while Stout and S. Woods accounted for the All-Star hits, both singles.

RIVER OIL broke the ice in the third with one run. The winners gained additional insurance with another marker in the fourth.

Farnham and Strawser hurled on even terms most of the evening, with Farnham fanning five and walking none and Strawser whiffing six and issuing one free trip.

With rain apparently out of the picture for a spell, tourney activity is slated again Thursday night. Burns' Ready Mix meets Penny Confectionery and Top Hat takes on Tink's Tavern in a game which was rained out Saturday night in the sixth inning.

Top Hat was leading in the test, 3-0. The game will resume at the point where halted Saturday night. The winner then meets Western Auto of Waverly.

Friday night Circleville Merchants play the loser of the Top Hat-Tink's game and River Oil will meet the winner of Thursday night's Top Hat-Tink's Waverly entanglement.

It will pay you well to get all the facts about wonderful new Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin — why it's so much smoother and glossier, why it looks better so much longer! Ask your painter-decorator, or see us soon.

look at your home... others do

*Poly-Lin is the Dean & Barry trade name for 100% pure polymeric linseed oil.

FILING A PROTEST—Braves' Joe Adcock heatedly disagrees with Umpire Deacon Delmore in Milwaukee game.

with Poly-Lin

THIS

Dean & Barry Poly-Lin

Molecules of 100% pure polymeric (Poly-Lin) linseed oil are more closely interlocked, as compared to the loose and open structure of regular linseed oil. That's why Poly-Lin gives a much stronger, more elastic paint film — why Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin doesn't prematurely break down and dull out.

NOT THIS

Regular Linseed Oil

THIS

Dean & Barry Poly-Lin

Poly-Lin permits oil and pigments to be more completely mixed to give these advantages: (1) easier brushing (2) better leveling action, smoother surface (3) a more uniform coating for long, even wear.

Regular Linseed Oil

Because Poly-Lin gives a smoother, more uniform paint film... light is more evenly reflected. That's why Dean & Barry house paint looks glossier — looks better

Burdette Magic Halts Pirate Rush In NL Flag Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
All it took was a little dose of Lew Burdette magic to cool off the Pittsburgh Pirates as National League pennant contenders.

Although the Milwaukee right-hander allowed 10 hits he maintained his old spell over the Pirates in a 6-1 victory Tuesday night that restored the Braves five-game lead over San Francisco.

The Giants lost to the Cubs 10-9 in the 10th as Ernie Banks' single chased home an unearned run at the expense of Johnny Antonelli.

Cincinnati rallied for three runs in the last of the ninth to top Philadelphia 6-5. Frank Robinson knocked in the tying and winning runs with a two-run double off Dick Farrell. Jack Sanford gave way to Farrell in the ninth with two on and the Phils leading 5-3.

St. Louis broke out of its batting slump with 21 hits in a 13-3 romp over Los Angeles.

Burdette shut out Pittsburgh for seven innings on the way to his 11th victory. Successive singles by Dick Groat, Hank Foiles and pinch hitter Ted Kluszewski finally produced the run in the eighth. All Milwaukee scores were charged against Ron Kline, who gave up all five Braves hits for his 10th defeat.

Banks had four hits, including his 31st homer, high in both leagues. Rookie Morris Thacker

Cincy Royals Get Four from Hawks

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's pro basketball Royals have mortgaged a prime future draft choice to get four sorely-needed players from the St. Louis Hawks.

Three players are familiar to Ohioans. Jim Palmer, 6-foot-8 rebounder, starred for Dayton; Wayne Embry, 6-foot-8, was the big spark for Miami of Ohio, and Ken Sidle, 6-foot-5, was an Ohio State standout. The Royals also get Darrell Floyd, scoring leader for Furman, who has been in military service. But the Royals promised St. Louis its No. 2 draft choice next year or a player to be agreed upon.

Liston, Bethia Slated for Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Philadelphia's Sonny Liston goes after Wayne Bethea of New York and his 12th heavyweight victory in a row tonight at Chicago Stadium.

The 10-round bout will be nationally televised (ABC-TV). Liston, 26, is seeking his 19th triumph in 20 bouts and has scored four victories this year. Ten of his victims have been knocked out.

Betha is 25 and has a 17-8-2 record including 6 knockouts. He has beaten such fighters as Harold Carter and Paul Andrews.

Series-Wise Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, who have been in nine of the last 11 World Series, have five series-wise veterans in Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford.

Berra has been in nine World Series with the Yankees and the 54 games in which he has appeared constitutes a record. Bauer has been in eight World Series in his nine years with the Yankees and has hit safely in his last 14 Series games. McDougald has played in six series in seven years and both Ford and Mantle have been in five series in six seasons. Ford leads active players in World Series victories with five.

Lamar McHan of the Chicago Cardinals, threw the longest touchdown pass of the 1957 National Football League season. It went 83 yards.

MUSCLE MEN—In a little horse-play between scrimmage sessions, Bill Jobko, Ohio State guard, totes Don Healy, Maryland guard, on his back at the College All-Stars training camp at Evanston, Ill., where the collegians prep for their game against the pro champion Detroit Lions in Chicago Aug. 15. Healy weighs mere 250 pounds!

Australian Tennis Ace Takes Beating

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Australian ace Ashley Cooper took a second round 6-3, 6-3 drubbing Tuesday from John Cranston of San Marino, Calif., in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Cranston is ranked 29th in the United States. His easy victory over Cooper, the Wimbledon and Australian champion, had officials asking questions about the poor showing of the boys from down under.

One theory is that the Aussies are having a tough time getting accustomed to playing on grass after spending most of the summer on European hard courts. Another is that they are just experiencing a general let-down along the tournament trail.

'Cram Course' Hard on Carpenter

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Lew Carpenter is finding the "cram course" he's taking at the Cleveland Browns' football training camp a bit rough. But he agrees it's better than a year ago when he joined the club after the team had played two league games.

The hard-running halfback came to camp a few days ago after military service. The Browns obtained him in a trade with the Detroit Lions last season and he eventually took over the first-string halfback job.

Carpenter then became the club's third best ground-gainer with 315 yards rushing in 83 carries.

He developed blisters on his toes Tuesday in his efforts to catch up with what he's missed. Coach Paul Brown is giving Carpenter a few plays a day to reacquaint him with the system.

Union Shop Ban Petitions Being Checked

464,000 Signatures
Studied; Call for Vote in November

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and county election boards today began the task of checking the validity of nearly 464,000 signatures. They were submitted Tuesday on petitions calling for an Ohio vote on a proposed constitutional amendment to ban union shops.

Of the signatures, 354,210, or 10 per cent of the 1956 gubernatorial vote, must be from eligible voters. At least 5 per cent of the signatures must be obtained in each of 44 counties.

The petitions were delivered in armored trucks and wheeled into Brown's office by guards of Brinks, Inc.

Theodore M. Gray Sr., executive secretary of Ohioans for Right to Work, Inc., said the cost of collecting the signatures was at least a quarter-million dollars. He said they were obtained in all 88 counties.

Besides Gray, Frank J. Egner of Findlay, chairman of the sponsoring group and head of an oil trucking firm, was on hand for the petition filing.

Other members of the petition committee present included State Rep. Elton Kile (R - Madison), president of the National Associated Businessmen.

There were also representatives of United Organized Labor, a union group opposing the proposal. They included Walter L. Davis of Cleveland, director, and Elvie Gulley of Portsmouth, a member of Davis' staff.

In a prepared statement, Davis said:

"The filing of the so-called 'right-to-work' petitions presents one of the most amazing spectacles in the history of Ohio politics. The state chairman of both major political parties oppose the move. The leading candidates of both parties oppose the move. Many local chapters of the chief sponsor, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, refuse to endorse the endeavor.

"Despite this, the National Chamber of Commerce and the National Assn. of Manufacturers have been able to make good their threat to place the measure on the ballot just as they have in California."

He added, "Ohio labor is bracing itself for the most heavily financed attack it has ever faced. We know we cannot nearly match them dollar for dollar but we will undertake a comprehensive campaign to get the facts before the public."

Rep. Kile said Ohioans for Right to Work now would concentrate on voting registration of petition signers for a heavy November vote. He said the committee would "begin an intensive campaign to familiarize Ohioans with the advantages that will come to both labor and management under right to work."

In another statement, Egner said:

"Compulsory unionism and the use of dues collected under compulsion for purposes which members do not approve are the primary issues that will be put before the voters this November."

The petitions, Secretary of State Brown said, will be checked for form by his office and numbered. Then they will be sent to county election boards to determine the validity of signatures. He said they would be returned to him in a few days.

The proposal would ban union shop contracts that require work-

Ohio Highway Men 'Paid' To Attend O'Neill Picnics

CHARDON (AP) — Michael DiSalle claims that state money is being wasted because Ohio Highway Department employees have been granted time off, while being paid, to attend campaign picnics for Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The Democratic candidate for governor declared:

"In one highway division there was $7,000 paid to persons, not working, but for attending one of the picnics."

"The total amount spent in this manner could easily approach $50,000 or $60,000."

DiSalle called for a complete investigation to determine the amount of state money he said had been spent. He also asked that action be taken against the O'Neill-for-Governor Committee or other persons to recover funds he said belonged to the state.

O'Neill has held nine picnics so far in connection with his campaign for re-election.

The former Toledo mayor said state law definitely establishes the work week for state employees at 40 hours and allows time off only for vacations and sick leave.

"There is no other provision in the law for time off," he declared.

"On July 25, the day of the governor's picnic at Maumee Downs, we checked the Highway Department garage at Oak Harbor.

"All equipment was in at 2 p.m. and only two maintenance men were on the job. Other employees were allowed to leave for the picnic at 11 a.m.," DiSalle asserted.

DiSalle listed other garages in the same highway district with the following comments:

"Fremont—one man on the job. Equipment in. Employees off at 11:30 a.m."

"Bowling Green—at 2:30 p.m., several workers were around the division offices, but all equipment was in and the parking lot was jammed with state cars driven in from other highway divisions.

"Wauseon—workers off at 11:30 a.m., equipment in, only three or four men on duty."

"Toledo — Highway Department garage employees let off one hour early to attend the picnic."

The former federal price administrator in the Truman administration said spot checks made by his men in other highway divisions where the picnics were held disclosed similar practices.

He also contended that Bureau of Motor Vehicle inspectors helped with the picnics at Chillicothe, Athens and Lebanon while being paid their salaries by the state.

"This is the type of thing I have warned the people of Ohio about," DiSalle said. "Where an administration has the primary concern of keeping itself in office, the taxpayer is bound to suffer."

Huff Named Principal At Ashville

The Teays Valley Board of Education last night employed D'Alan E. Huff, Chillicothe, as supervising principal of the Ashville-Harrison School.

Huff was born in Chillicothe and is a 1940 graduate of South-eastern High School. He received a bachelor of science in education degree in 1955 from Ohio University.

In 1956 Huff received his masters degree in education from Ohio U. He has attended Ohio State University working toward his Ph.D.

Huff is married and has two boys. He holds a four-year provisional high school certificate. The 36-year-old principal was employed 14 years at the Mead Corporation as an inspector.

HE HELD an assistantship at Ohio University for one year before entering the Chillicothe School system where he taught high school science for one year. Last year he was principal of Tiffin grade school where he was in charge of 522 pupils and 18 teachers.

His duties at Ashville will start immediately. Huff replaces John Hardin who resigned to accept the principalship at Washington C. H. High School. Hardin was at Ashville seven years.

Council OKs '59 Budget With Deficit

City Council last night adopted a 1959 budget calling for $161,895.30 in receipts and $234,304 in expenditures. The budget will be submitted to the county budget commission for setting of tax rates.

In other action the lawmakers placed two ordinances on second reading and passed two appropriation measures.

Council placed on second reading an ordinance amending the city closing law. Currently business places in residential zones must close at 11 p. m. and not open before 6 a. m. The new law would allow places to stay open until 1 a. m. and open at 5 a. m.

An ordinance vacating an alley near the Mound St. school building, for playground purposes, was placed on its second reading.

Council approved appropriation of $50 to the police stationery fund, and $1,200 to the police maintenance of equipment fund.

A delegation of residents from the Lynwood Ave. area asked Council for installation of adequate storm sewers.
